

Democratic Engagement

Showing up to Vote

Writing a Letter to the Editor

Researching Candidates

Attending Local Events

It's important that community members are able to participate, debate and advocate in the ways they want. It is also where governments actively build trusting relationships, and shared responsibility with the communities they serve.

Our voices and our votes count

Think about ...

What does a healthy democracy look like? Have you ever thought about sending your local political representative an email or asking for a meeting?